

La Casa Que Canta

ZIHUATANEJO, MEXICO – A picturesque location, an attentive staff and an intimate atmosphere set the tone for privacy and romance. Nestled in the cliffs overlooking Playa La Ropa, this inviting retreat is recognized as one of Mexico’s best boutique hotels, with 25 stylish suites boasting a variety of amenities, including spacious terraces, private pools and sweeping views.

With a strong emphasis on Mexican heritage as well as international art and culture, the resort hosts a variety of musical concerts, drawing renowned performers like classical artist Anibal Robles, Fado musician Marcela Ortiz, and Son Jarocho. On the culinary side, some of the country’s best talent flocks to the hotel’s food events, including the Gastronomic Festival of Oaxaca. The soothing infinity pool, meditation workshops, fitness classes and spa make the tranquil spot a favorite for yoga and wellness retreats. Widely recognized as one of Mexico’s best restaurants, Mar y Cielo offers fine dining for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Guests can also enjoy sunset cocktails at Luz de Luna overlooking the beautiful Zihuatanejo Bay. Recommended since 1994; 2011 Readers’ Choice Award, #6, Top 20 International Hideaways; 2012 Readers’ Choice Award, #10, Top 20 International Hideaways.
