

Villa Feltrinelli

GARGNANO, LAKE GARDA, ITALY – Set inside a private park, Villa Feltrinelli offers a secluded escape amidst a stunning natural landscape. Originally a summer retreat for Italy’s Feltrinelli family in the late 1800s, the villa now welcomes guests from April through October. The property sits on the banks of the country’s largest lake, with magnificent mountains visible in the distance. Majestic olive, orange, ancient oak, cypress and magnolia trees surround the hotel and deliver truly breathtaking views from all corners of the grounds.

While the villa’s castle-like exterior projects a regal quality, complimentary amenities such as fully stocked in-room bars, laundry services and Acqua di Parma toiletries help guests feel truly at home. Each of the 21 suites offers a distinctive design and experience. The décor throughout the property mixes original pieces with custom-designed touches, including detailed frescoes, antique Venetian mirrors and marble pillars. Large bathrooms with heated marble floors, deep soaking bathtubs and walk-in showers facilitate total relaxation, and a staff-to-guest ratio of 3:1 guarantees unparalleled service.

Guests may dine at their leisure in the cozy dining room or enjoy al fresco meals. The two-Michelin-star restaurant serves exquisite dishes prepared with fresh, local ingredients. Nearby cultural sites, historic cities and working vineyards await exploration. Alternatively, the lake, garden and outdoor pool provide the perfect settings to unwind and admire the exquisite Italian landscape.
